4 INTERNATIONAL RESEARCH DATA

“The academic study of rhetoric studies in Africa is relatively new and South Africa maintains a pivotal position in spreading and entrenching the discipline. In this regard, the efforts and accomplishments of a South African-based French professor of philosophy, Philippe-Joseph Salazar, who founded the Centre for Rhetoric Studies, University of Cape Town, have been seminal. Salazar has not only worked to establish the academic parameters and credentials of the discipline but has also contributed to the creation of the institutions to legitimize the field of study. In particular, he was instrumental in establishing an association for the study of rhetoric and communication in Southern Africa whose reach extends to other parts of Africa and the globe, and which espouses a multidisciplinary ethic. In addition, one of the ways in which Salazar lays the foundations for the academic viability of the field is by various interrogations...” (International Encyclopedia of Communication, Blackwell, 2008).

French Panorama des idées (5, 2015) devoted its main issue (36p) to Salazar’s work as “one the leading world specialists” in rhetoric.

4.1 LEADERSHIP OF INTERNATIONAL RESEARCH PROJECTS (since 2002)

Note: ‘IPRR’ projects under A1 financing instrument are not listed being in essence personal projects, monetary value: R100.000 p a. Funding quantum drastically reduced in 2019.

Current membership of major project: International Advisory Board member, PROTECT project on Refugees, a large intercontinental project funded by the European Commission (2019-2023) <https://protectproject.w.uib.no/scrutinizing-discourses-of-international-protection-with-professor-philippe-joseph-salazar/>

Fifteen projects completed (since 2002)

Co-Investigator (with Professor A M Vitale, UBA, Buenos Aires, Argentina), bilateral grant, SA-Argentina, on Foundational speeches & national identities in Argentina & South Africa (2014-2017). This project has yielded one preliminary volume on Rhetoric in South America (2013), one special journal issue of the African Yearbook of Rhetoric (2014), while another journal issue is being prepared for release in November 2015. (R364.850)

Principal Investigator, National Research Foundation of South Africa, CPRR project on Global Trends: A Rhetorical Study of Global Trends and Forecasting Discourse (2014-2016). Several publications to date, one being a detailed study of the manipulation of time categories in order to shape and to influence public perceptions of 'major' political events (in Advances in Rhetoric). In March 2015 I was invited by Agence Internationale Diplomatie et Opinion Publique (Paris), a consortium of senior diplomats, to address them on President Putin's "projectional" public diplomacy rhetoric. (R450.100).

Principal Investigator of a Blue Skies Project under Knowledge Fields Development (2011, concept note; 2012-2014, project itself). It yielded in August 2015 a substantial, special thematic volume on Surveillance by Swiss journal Cosmopolis/ Review of Cosmopolitics/Revue de Cosmopolitique. My own programmatic chapter on surveillance, knowledge society, and shaping of public perceptions was pre-published by the Centre français de Recherche sur le Renseignement as "Subjectivity under Surveillance", while an Italian, modified text has appeared since, in translation in Italian journal of philosophy and critique, La Sguardo (highlighted as "brilliant" by the editors in their preface). A study on Global Trends bridged this project with a project mentioned in previous section, first paragraph, and was published in the journal of strategy AGIR in 2013 ("Rhétorique de la prospective stratégique"). (R170.000+ R565.000= R735.000)

South African investigator (2014): Worldwide University Network, exploratory meeting with Professor M Staub, History Department, University of Sheffield to develop a project on papal public diplomacy with the. Put on hold for the time being. (R25.000).

Principal Investigator under International Research bilaterals: New Beginnings, Argentina and South Africa, a comparative study in the rhetorical shaping of democracy (2011-2014). Co-investigator is Professor Claudia Hilb, University of Buenos Aires. I co-edited a book publication in June 2012, a further volume in March 2014, and contributed to a special journal issue (guest edited by junior investigator Dr Lucas Martin) in 2015. (R369.466).

Sole Investigator of a Project under Knowledge Fields Competitive Programme for Rated Researchers: Public Diplomacy Rhetoric (2010-2012). Output: journal issue on diplomatic rhetoric in 2012. This project had been long prepared by a special issue of the journal Javnost-The Public, on diplomacy and international relations, in 2005. (R230.000)

South African investigator (2011): Worldwide University Network, to develop a project on South-South Rhetoric with the University of Nanking, PRC. This was an exploratory work. It led to a sustained relationship with the Chinese Society of Rhetoric of the World and Peking University in particular. (R25.000).

Principal Investigator of a Project under Focus Area : A Rhetorical History of Africa's Liberation (2008-2011). A volume resulting from this project was released in November 2011. (R536.000).

Principal Investigator of a Project on "Rhetorics of social justice and deliberative perceptions of the Law in Romania and South Africa", NRF and Romanian Foundation for Science, Romanian Principal Investigator: Professor Ciprian Mihali, Department of Philosophy and Faculty of Law, University of Cluj-Napoca (mid 2008-mid 2011). Publication released June 2011. Outputs: articles and a book on the discourse and rhetoric of State. (R300.000).

Principal Investigator of an international collaborative project on "Gender in the Deliberative Public Sphere” – cooperation agreement between the Research Council of Norway and the South African NRF. Co-project leader is Professor Berit Von der Lippe, BI Norwegian School of Management, Oslo (mid 2007-mid 2010). Publication released September 2010. Yield: a book on gender and rhetoric. (R378.007+R42.000: R420.007).

Principal Investigator of a Project on “Poland and South Africa: Republics at the Frontiers”, being a cooperative agreement between the Polish Foundation for Research and the South African National Research Foundation. The Polish Principal Investigator is Professor Jerzy Axer, Institute for Multi-Disciplinary Studies, University of Warsaw (mid 2006 -mid 2008). Yielded articles and chapters. (R87.600).

Principal Investigator, Project: “Two Models for Civil Rhetoric, being a comparison between Morocco and South Africa” (2006-2007). This project includes regular collaborative work with a number of colleagues at the Universities of Kenitra and Fes and the King Abdul Aziz El Saoud Foundation for the Social Sciences, in Casablanca, Morocco. Yielded publications. (R305.000).

Principal Investigator of an international research project on “Women’s Rhetorics in South Africa and Sweden. A Comparative Study in Democratic Deliberation” – a cooperative agreement between the Swedish International Development Cooperation Agency and the South African National Research Foundation (2004-2006). The Swedish Principal Investigator is Professor Brigitte Mral (Örebro) (extended to 2007 by the Swedish side). Main outputs: a book and a video. (R166.000).

Principal Investigator of an international research project on “E-democracy and New Communication Technologies in Hungary and South Africa. A Comparative study of persuasive deliberation in two emerging electronic public spheres” – a cooperative agreement between the Hungarian ministry of research and the and the South African National Research Foundation (2004-2006). The Hungarian Principal Investigator is Professor Ildiko Kovats , University of Economic Sciences-Corvinus, Budapest. (R95.000).

Principal Investigator of a Project on “Poland and South Africa: Two Rhetorical Models for Participatory Citizenship in Post-Totalitarian Cultures”, being a cooperative agreement between the Polish Foundation for Research and the South African National Research Foundation (2003-2004). The Polish Principal Investigator is Professor Jerzy Axer, University of Warsaw. (R83.000).

Principal Investigator of a Programme International de Coopération Scientifique (n° 1455) (2002-2004), established between the South African National Research Foundation (NRF) and the French Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique, on “Rhetoric and Democracy: France/South Africa”. The French Principal Investigator was Dr Barbara Cassin (Sorbonne/CNRS, Paris). This project help pioneer bilateral relations between CNRS and the South African NRF. It has yielded two major volumes, numerous articles, and an international symposium under the aegis of the French Academy and the French Academy of Moral and Political Sciences. The project hinged on the Truth and Reconciliation Commission, which I perceive, beside its inherent, nation-building value, as a powerful tool for public diplomacy left however unutilized by South Africa. I have since published extensively on the whole topic. (R150.000).

4.3 MEDIA ACTIVITY AND IMPACT

Accreditations

2012: Accredited as a foreign journalist to the US Senate Press Gallery, Presidential Conventions.

2014, 2015: Accredited as a foreign journalist at Mining Indaba and related events, Cape Town.

Examples of media interventions since 2003

(up to an hour-long, as guest writer or commentator on French national radio, from 1998 only)
TV5 Monde (Grand Angle, “Terrorisme: qui gagnera la guerre des mots”, 25/09/2015), Un jour dans le monde (France Inter, “puissance rhétorique du djihadisme”, 28/09/2015), Public-Sénat, 27/09/11; France-Culture, 28/09/11; Public Sénat (Déshabillons-les, H. Risser, 15/02/10); France Info (Un livre, un auteur, Ph. Vallet, 13/5/98); Fréquence Protestante (B. Cottret, 8/5/99) ; France-Culture (Staccato, A. Spire, 1/6/99) ; France-Culture(Les Vendredis de la philosophie, J.-C. Milner, 25/9/00) ; France-Culture (La Parole publique aujourd’hui, R. Scheps, 16/10/01) ; France-Culture (Le Bien Commun, A. Since, I have been a frequent commentator on international public radio and television (too numerous to mention).

International media impact since 2015

In the wake of my 2015 book on terrorism, interviews or programs are far too numerous to be listed here, at or by European, North and South American and African media, tv, radio, and print, as well as invited opinion pieces in leading print-media (Le Point, La Stampa, Nouvel Economiste, Chronicle of Higher Education, Philosophie Magazine, El Mundo, Die Zeit, Der Standard, etc) or interviews (RTS, France-Culture, SKY, RTS, Radio Kultur, BBC, TV5 Monde). A dossier (by no means exhaustive) is available at: <http://www.lemieux-editeur.fr/Paroles-armees-parole-mediatiqueTVs> and radios post 2015 are too numerous to be listed here.

On the occasion of the Darmstadt premiere of Nobel prize Elfriede Jelinek's play Wut (Rage), on the January 2015 Paris terror attack against Charlie Hebdo by militants of the Islamic State (ISIS) excerpts of my Die Sprache des Terrors were reprinted to introduce the play. The French book received the coveted prix Bristol des Lumières (best nonfiction) a day before the November 2015 Paris Bataclan (theatre) massacre by Islamic State's militants (https://www.staatstheater-darmstadt.de/media/Produktionen/2016-2017/WUT/Programmheft_WUT_web.pdf).

In 2015 an issue of French cultural magazine Le Panorama des Idées was dedicated to my work in rhetoric (vol 5).

In 2018, a 4-part interview by A Perrault for leading French media Mediapart on my work, rhetoric and democracy (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=6i38iP-9BWs>)

2019-2022: several broadcasts on ex CNN Rachel Marsden's programme for Russian media Sputnik (https://fr.sputniknews.africa/author_rachel_marsden/). Videos on YouTube have been deleted due to Western sanctions against RT broadcaster. I terminated it in 2022.
