

Mr Chebo Tamajong Nfor

Mr Chebo Tamajong-Nfor is a part of the teaching and facilitation team for the Comparative Law and Business in Africa, as well as Chinese Law and Investments in Africa courses, at the University of Cape Town, where he is also completing his PhD. His doctoral research is titled “The Complementary Role of Africa’s Regional Courts to the AfCFTA Dispute Settlement Mechanism for Non-State Parties.” The research lies at the intersection of international trade law, regional integration, and African dispute settlement regimes.

A Cameroonian citizen, Mr Nfor holds an LLB from Nelson Mandela University and an LLM in Commercial Law from the University of Cape Town. His academic work over the years has been concerned with the legal and institutional frameworks underpinning African trade, particularly the operation of regional courts in relation to the African Continental Free Trade Area (AfCFTA). Also he brings to his teaching and research a comparative perspective informed by cross-border trade practice and regional judicial cooperation.

Paper presented in 2022: “The Complementary Role of Africa’s Regional Courts to the AfCFTA Dispute Settlement Mechanism for Non-State Parties.”
