

Professor Etienne Nsie

Professor Etienne Nsie - Professor of law and Deputy Dean of Pedagogy, Faculty of Law and Economics, Omar Bongo University, Libreville, Gabon

Professor Nsie conducts research in four areas: contract law, family law, labour law and OHADA law. He also teaches these subjects at Faculty of Law of Omar BONGO University.

This research was conducted as part of the Centre for Studies and Research in Law and Political Institutions where he was Secretary-General since its inception in 1999.

Professor Nsie supervises PhD students, in Gabon, Cameroun and France on topics within his area of expertise and also provides legal advice to companies, governments and individuals.

Prof Nsie's research while at the CCLA was on The Nature of the OHADA law, the aim being to provide information that will inform other legal, economic and monetary integration efforts on the African continent.