Unlock the potential of GenAI in the legal sector with this introductory course designed for all lawyers.

Explore how GenAI can streamline legal operations, enhance decision-making, and drive efficiency in in-house legal teams. Gain insights into GenAI's capabilities, understand its limitations, and learn practical prompt engineering techniques. The course culminates with real-world demonstrations, equipping you with the knowledge and hands-on experience needed to leverage AI tools effectively in your legal practice.

The course will benefit all in-house and law firm lawyers wanting to better understand the application of GenAI in the legal sector.

PRESENTED BY:

Chris Williams - Senior Manager and legal technology expert at Leya.law, where he drives AI-powered transformation for law firms and in-house legal teams. His expertise includes no-code and low-code development, GenAI, and legal innovation.

Kevin van Tonder - a qualified lawyer and Director at Consilio, focusing on enhancing legal operating models through technology and data.
