Gain a deep understanding of how animal cruelty is prosecuted within South Africa's legal framework.

This course explores the Animals Protection Act and its interaction with the Criminal Procedure Act, including how cases are initiated, investigated, and tried. Learn how evidence is gathered, how charges are laid, and how cases are argued in court. The course also addresses legal loopholes, common challenges in enforcement, and current reform efforts to improve animal protection through strategic litigation and legislative change.

Ideal course for legal professionals (attorneys & advocates), animal welfare professionals, prosecutors.

PRESENTED BY:

Lisa V. Thomas - Advocate; AHAWA Legal Counsel

Michelle Wolmarans - Chief Inspector, Founder of Agency for Human and Animal Welfare and Empowerment (AHAWA)

Colette Barnard - a multi disciplinary professional with over fourteen years experience in the animal welfare sector, law enforcement, education, public engagement, and nonprofit leadership.
